Hang On

Each week our announcements and prayer list are filled with people who are facing difficulties in life. We are surrounded by loss, illness and other challenges. I hope you will be encouraged by this article from Scott Franks, Preaching Minister at the Burnt Hickory Church of Christ. It is a great reminder to trust in God and His love for us. - Brian

Has God asked something of you that seems unfair? Overwhelming? Impossible? You’re not the first to think so. I imagine Noah felt the same. Imagine processing this message from God:

I’m going to wipe all life off the face of the earth.
You are a farmer, but spend the next hundred years building a massive ship while enduring the questions and ridicule of your neighbors.
Two of every kind of bird and livestock and wild animal will miraculously show up here and you will have to keep them alive.
Everything will start over with you. Eight people are all that will survive. Everyone else – men, women, children, your other relatives – everyone else you have ever known, and every place you have called home will be obliterated, gone forever.

What questions would that raise for you? What would you struggle with when you learned this is how God works? What would your attitude towards God be under the drumming of 40 days and nights of relentless rain? It’s worth considering because God may come to you with a burden or task or challenge that will be entirely unexpected, and may seem overwhelming and unfair. You’ll have a lot of questions. I can’t give you all the answers to why you or why now or what God is doing. But what I can tell you, based on the example of Noah, is that the one right choice you can consistently make is to be faithful, to trust that God will equip you with what you need.

“Noah did everything just as God commanded him.” Genesis 6:22 (NIV)

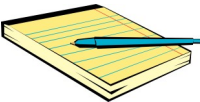

We won’t always understand God’s ways, but when you feel overwhelmed, when what he is putting you through feels so unfair, stay faithful; do everything just as the Lord commanded. Don’t compromise the truth in scripture. Don’t, in your loneliness or stress, ignore what God clearly says in scripture with the excuse “God wants me to be happy.”

No, hang on, stay faithful, continue to obey, because one day, just like when Noah and his family finally stumbled out of the musty ark into the dazzling sunshine of day, one day you will emerge from the darkness and pressure of whatever trial you are enduring. God will see you through. God loves you, and what he has waiting for you, if you just stay faithful, will prove that he knows best.

For those of you still in the storm, still under the stress, still struggling with what God has asked you to do, here is my prayer for you:

Ephesians 3:14-21 (NIV)

For this reason I kneel before the Father, from whom every family in heaven and on earth derives its name. I pray that out of his glorious riches he may strengthen you with power through his Spirit in your inner being, so that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith. And I pray that you, being rooted and established in love, may have power, together with all the Lord’s holy people, to grasp how wide and long and high and deep is the love of Christ, and to know this love that surpasses knowledge—that you may be filled to the measure of all the fullness of God. Now to him who is able to do immeasurably more than all we ask or imagine, according to his power that is at work within us, to him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus throughout all generations, for ever and ever! Amen.
