"WHAT ON EARTH ARE YOU DOING...AND WHY?"

We read Ephesians a few weeks ago in our daily Bible reading plan, but I just came across this article by retired preacher, David Srygley, this week. It's a great synopsis of what happens in that letter and how its message is practical to our own struggles. - Brian

"What on earth are you doing...and why?" This question is asked by many Christians when life is not going as expected. Regardless of their faithfulness, God seems to be absent, uncaring, or worse, out of control. Paul's letter to the Ephesian church reminds us all that such is never the case. Paul encourages us not to lose heart (3:13) because God is "able to do exceeding abundantly more than we can think or imagine..." (3:20).

It is important to recognize the function of Eph. 3:20-21. It is the summary, not just a doxology or parenthesis, of the first three chapters--with a particular connection to chapter 3. Paul began Ephesians with a prayer that they might have the wisdom to "know the hope..., riches..., and power" of God. Each of these is described as gloriously abundant throughout these chapters.

He goes on to unpack those three ideas over the next two chapters. Finally, in chapter 3 he returns back to the beginning—wisdom, describing it as undiscoverable (literal Greek) and manifold (many layers with lots of twists and turns) wisdom. As an example of this wisdom, he offers the introduction of Gentiles into the body of Christ through the death of Christ. What a plot twist, and nobody saw it coming—even the heavenly rulers!

In v. 13 we have the "theological purpose" of this story: "do not lose heart." Paul has said that God's will is too grand for our feeble minds, but he has demonstrated over and over again that his plan is perfect (and inconceivable). We just need to learn to trust that plan so that we will "not lose heart." This message is for those who are struggling with the question, "What on earth is God doing and why?"

In vv. 14-19, Paul returns to his prayer from chapter 1. It is a prayer of empowerment so that they will not lose heart (v. 13), with the added reminder that all of the hope, riches, and power of God are ours because he loves us.

Finally, vv. 20 & 21 drive home the final message. God can do more than you think or imagine. Regardless of the "hopelessness" and "poverty" and "powerlessness" we may feel in our current situation and of the limits of our own human thought and logic in comparison to God's wisdom, KNOW that God is working within us with unimaginable power to accomplish his plan for our lives. This is not a generic "God is able," but a specific application of God's inconceivable omnipotence to the struggles of living a Christian life in an ungodly world.
